Shaka Modular Benching Collection

From sweeping serpentine runs to compact seating moments, modular components adapt to the scale and rhythm of any space. Create collaborative gathering areas on campus, quiet reflection zones in courtyards, or welcoming edges along public pathways — all with a cohesive design language that elevates the outdoor experience.

Fluid curves and rhythmic lines create a bold architectural presence, while the modular design allows planners and designers to configure layouts that respond naturally to the landscape design.

Shaka Modular Benching

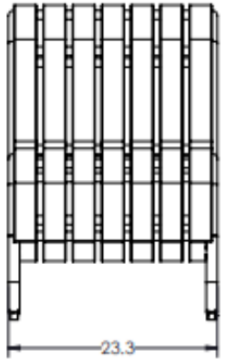

- Modular configurations for custom layouts and placemaking
- Sculptural curved profiles that soften architectural landscapes
- Durable construction designed for campuses, parks, and public-spaces
- Premium aluminum frames for all-weather performance and corrosion resistance
- Maintenance-free High-Density Polyethylene (HDPE) slatted seat materials
- The open slat design promotes airflow and drainage, helping surfaces dry and moderating temperatures in changing weather conditions
- Ganging connectors and ground anchoring brackets
- Made in America
